What you'll get

A clear view of the programme, the CMI-recognised certificate, the separate Chartered Manager route, the real time commitment, and the questions worth asking before you enquire.

Made for the decision you're facing now.

Use this guide to judge whether the programme fits the responsibility you already carry — not just the title you would like next. It sets out the programme shape, what completion gives you, the time it needs, and how to prepare.

The Future Ready Executive MBA is a professional development programme recognised by CMI (UK). It is not an MQA-accredited academic degree or a regulated qualification.

Start with the work you already carry.

The programme is built for business owners, directors, general managers and senior managers who need a more structured way to examine decisions, test assumptions and move an important business issue forward — using their own live challenge as the material.

Six-month programme

Six training days across three scheduled sessions, coaching and an applied project, completed across the full six months while you keep working.

On completion

Participants who meet the programme requirements receive the CMI-recognised Executive MBA programme certificate. Chartered Manager remains a separate, optional CMI route.

A good fit if you

- already make decisions that affect people, operations or business performance
- can bring a live business challenge into the learning
- want applied management development rather than a traditional academic MBA
- can protect time for three scheduled sessions, coaching and project work across six months

What it is not: a university degree, an MQA-accredited academic MBA, a promise of promotion, or an automatic Chartered Manager award.

Four questions to ask before you enquire.

1. Is the work relevant?

Pick a current decision, constraint or opportunity that genuinely matters to your role or business — that becomes your project.

2. Is the schedule workable?

The six months run across three scheduled sessions plus coaching and project work. Check the published cohort dates against your responsibilities.

3. Do you need employer support?

If funding or sponsorship matters, ask for the employer conversation and HRD Corp briefing before your company applies.

4. Are you exploring the scholarship?

Eligible Malaysian applicants may be considered for a LIFE Innoversity scholarship, subject to availability, assessment and written approval.
